Odyssey's Best: Prom Restaurant

Located in the serenity of Loch Raven Reservoir, Peerce's has an atmosphere of class ideally suited for a prom night. Below, tables are readied for the excited prom goers who will soon be arriving for their special dinner.

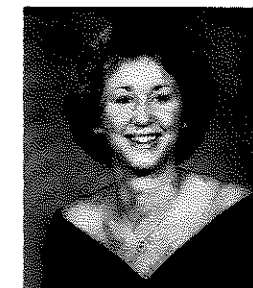

"It's like icing on a cake because it starts or ends the night," said senior Portia Shaprow when talking about dinner at Peerce's, our choice for the best restaurant to visit after a formal dance like the prom.

Dinner at a fine restaurant is just part of the expense of a formal evening. For starters, a girl must spend between $50 and $100 for a dress while a guy usually rents a tux for between $60 and $100. The well dressed date wears a corsage that costs between $7 and $12 or a boutonniere priced around $3. Dinner at a nice restaurant seems like a perfect opportunity to show off all that expense!

Peerce's had a number of features which put it at the top of our list. "They make you feel pampered," said Kris Readmond. Perhaps Peerce's greatest asset is its location. Centered in the Loch Raven Watershed area, the restaurant sits alone in a picturesque setting that offers diners a glorious view of the nearby pine bordered reservoir. The waitresses treat students like adults, not just teenagers who must be put up with. Dinners cost between $9 and $20.

For one of the very special dates in high school, this local restaurant has the perfect atmosphere of soft lights and pretty surroundings. It is a unique place that adds a touch of class to a memorable evening.
