Odyssey's Best: Summer Fun

We started the year with lingering thoughts of summer fun and we close the year looking forward to it. What's the best activity to beat the heat and occasional boredom of summer?

Being lucky to live in an area with great access to water, most people beat the heat by centering many activities around water. Most popular local summer activity seemed to be pool memberships. Mr. Light, assistant manager and swim coach for Woodcroft Pool, told Odyssey that family pool memberships were on the increase. It costs the same to join a pool for a whole year as it does to stay at Ocean City for a week. Woodcroft also had areas for tennis, basketball, and volleyball.

Picnicing and cruising through Loch Raven Reservoir were also popular. Biking along closed Loch Raven Drive on the weekends had its devotees. Mike Weglein explained the high interest in Loch Raven: "There is no one around to bother you except for an occasional policeman. I guess you could say the place is romantic."
