Thanks Parkville for all the good times. Especially thanks to my family and George. I love you.

When the weather turns cold and the winter months arrive here at Parkville, what is the most popular winter activity? In the past few years it has become evident that skiing is the new top choice among Parkville students.

The lack of snow through December delayed many skiers from hitting the slopes until January. Once the temperature dropped and with the help of man-made snow, there was usually at least one open slope for the determined skier.

Most Parkville students skied at Liberty or Roundtop, mainly because of their closeness and convenience. Friends could be heard planning single day trips because not many teenagers had the opportunity, unless they went with parents, of going on week long ski adventures.

Parkville students were lucky enough to have a Ski Club, sponsored by Mr. Rochfort who was a part-time ski instructor. The club sponsored a trip in February of 1983 to Wisp, located in Western Maryland. Those students who signed up for the trip which was quickly filled spent the first three days of energy week skiing to their heart's content.

Wintertime skiing was fun whether one was successful like Joe Carolan's smooth run above or frustrating like Jennifer Houston's attempt to get back on her feet after a spill at Liberty.

If all the world's a stage,
and we are merely players;
Parkville's full of hams.
Thank you Lord for seeing
me through. RIP Parkville.
